Introduction

Travelling to China to carry out activities within the framework of SDC should be viewed as any other travel activity carried out by employees at the Danish universities. This means that you are responsible for your travel arrangements, which include:

- Applying for visa
- Booking airline tickets and other transportation
- Booking hotel

To make it easier for you to arrange your travel, SDC has collected important information regarding hotel, visa, invitation letters etc. in this mini-guide.

For more extensive information of relevance to your stay in China, please see the guide Going to China – Information for Danish Teachers about the Sino-Danish Center available on our website: <http://sdc.university/about/for-teachers-researchers/>

Please note that settlement of travel expenses must be made with your own university. SDC will subsequently reimburse your university in accordance with the compensation structure. Consequently, there are no financial transactions between you and SDC. The compensation structure can be found on our website: <http://sdc.university/about/for-teachers-researchers/compensation/>

Travelling with research equipment

If you need to bring any kind of scientific equipment, research material etc. to China, make sure you meet the requirements of the customs laws of China.

(If you fail to declare goods, you risk a penalty and to have the equipment/material confiscated).

Applying for a Visa

There are visa requirements for citizens travelling to China. You must apply for a visa at the Chinese Visa Application Service Center in Copenhagen. You can find all relevant information regarding the application process on their website:

http://bio.visaforchina.org/CPH2_EN/

Most researchers and teachers should apply for an F visa (exchanges, visits, study tours and other activities). One of the requirements for obtaining an F visa is an invitation, which is issued by the Danish SDC office. For more information about invitation letters see How to apply for a visa and what to include in the application \(step by step\).

Note: Teachers and researchers who plan to stay in China for more than 90 days must apply for a permanent residence permit and an X visa.

If you have any questions regarding the visa application process, please contact the Chinese Visa Application Service Center. The phone number is: +45 7020 9308. It is also possible to contact the center by email at: denmarkcenter@visaforchina.org.

Address:

We urge applicants to always keep updated on new rules etc. by visiting the website of the Chinese Visa Application Service Center in Copenhagen before beginning the application process.

How to apply for a visa and what to include in the application (step by step)

1. Invitation letters are now issued by the Danish SDC Office in Aarhus. Please write to contact@sdcc.university and include a scan of your passport information page
2. The invitation letter will be returned to you by email
3. Fill out the visa application online at Chinese Visa Application Service Center
4. The hard copy of the visa application can now be send by post or handed in personally at CVASC. You still need to submit biometric data every 5 years*
5. If you choose to send the hard copy of your visa application by post, you must mark the envelope "att. SDC"
6. You can still choose to have the issued visa returned by post or collect it by showing up in person

Show up in person

The Chinese Visa Application Service Center in Copenhagen will take applicants' fingerprints on behalf of Embassy of the People's Republic of China in Denmark in accordance with Chinese laws and regulations. This means that you will have to show up in person at the center in Copenhagen in order to get the application process underway.

Please note that fingerprints are not required for applicants who have been fingerprinted and applied in Chinese Visa Application Service Center in Copenhagen with the same passport within five years.

This procedure is carried out by the Chinese Visa Service Center. Please direct any questions you may have to them.

TAKE NOTE: Please send the request for an invitation letter along with the supporting document to contact@sdc.university at least 2 months ahead of applying for a visa to ensure that your visa application will be processed on time.

The invitation letter you receive is valid for six months, which means that you do not have to apply for a visa right away (i.e. you can obtain an invitation letter in May to apply for a trip in October).
